10	Reading Passage : Pablo Picasso was a famous Spanish artist . To most , he is known simply as “ Picasso ” . He was born on October 25th , 1881 , and died on April 8th , 1973 . Pablo’s father was a drawing teacher , and he encouraged his son’s artistic ability . When Pablo was ten years old , the family moved to Barcelona , Spain , Where Pablo took an exam to enter a famous art school , called La Llonga . The exam was supposed to take on month , but Pablo finished it in one day ! He later moved to Paris , Where he worked as an artist creating his drawings and holding an art gallery. During this time , he created his famous “ Blue Period’ works . They were called this because of their love to the color, and because they were quite dark in nature . In 1907, Picasso painted “ Les Demoiselles d’Avignon’ , which is known to have been the first painting in the ‘ modern art’ movement. Artists from all over the world travelled to see this painting . Picasso created cubism , with a colleague name George Braque . In the 1920s , Picasso continued his work by creatinng theatre sets . His work during this period was considered neo-classical , modern , surreal , and cubist . In 1937 , there was a terrible bombing in a small Spanish town called Guernica . Picasso reacted by creating one of his most famous paintings , a masterpiece named after the town of Guernica . Picasso then moved on to print making and lithography . He was never satisfied to use a medium the way it was tradionally used , and came up with many new ways to create art . He worked on printing on plates , and worked on many other techniques . Just before his 87th birthday , he completed a series called the 347 series in which he created three hundred and forthy seven pieces of his printing on plates between March and October ! One of the most interesting things about Picasso is that he was the first artist to be famous during his own lifetime . He was quite a celebrity , and is considered one of the most important artists of the twentieth century .
